

Amy Bloom

After graduating from the University of Colorado at Boulder with a bachelor of arts degree, Amy joined her husband Mitch in client service support. She handles all aspects of client services, from taking inbound calls and setting appointments, to new business processing where she facilitates paperwork for new and existing clients to assure case flow efficiency.

Amy really enjoys the personal contact she has with the clients and understands each client's time is valuable so she truly enjoys the gift to provide the highest level of service and address any client needs in a professional, courteous and timely manner.

Amy is a Colorado woman through and through, as she was born and raised in Boulder Colorado and is fortunate to have her entire immediate family remain in the area. Amy loves Disneyland and spends her free time running half marathons, skiing, quilting and raising her two beautiful children Jacob and Aleah (5 and 8 years old).
